Rookie Ontarian Defenseman Earns RBC Financial Group Players of the Week: TWICE

He left his family and friends from Ontario to play hockey for the Terrebonne Cobras in the QJAAAHL. His goal is to play in the NCAA. This rookie defenseman is quickly making his presence felt in his new team. Tyler ices roughly 25 to 30 minutes a game, playing in all situations. He also earned the RBC Defensive Player of the Week twice in the month of October. Meanwhile, Tyler is taking correspondence courses four days a week.

"The focal reason behind my decision was that I felt this was my best chance to move on to the next level in my hockey career due to the competitiveness of the league. After speaking with the head coach Robert Dubuc throughout the summer, and hearing how successful the organization has been in the past, it was clear to me that this was the right choice."

"I want to play university hockey," Longpré
